

Pupils Voice

We know the importance of involving pupil's thoughts and decisions when it comes to their education. Here at Coleridge it is important to give children the opportunity to express their thoughts and feelings, so we have in place strategies for them to use to be able to contribute to their learning. We are aware of the barriers that some children on the SEN register face, to express their emotions and views so it is our job to use appropriate resources so they are able to do so freely. These approaches help individuals build their self-confidence and improve their skills to express their choices and make meaningful decisions in the forthcoming future.

Parents Voice

Here at Coleridge, we actively encourage parents to be involved in the provision of their child's special educational needs. For the children on the SEN register we will involve their parents by:

- Discussing methods to support their child's needs.
- Collaborate with them in regards to documents such as: Pupil passport targets, SEND plans and EHCP documentations.
- Communication on a regular basis with class teacher.
- Involvement in termly review meetings.
- Feedback on provision made for their individuals.

What do you find easy?		What do you find difficult?
What would you like to be when you're older?		Who is important to you?
What do you think helps you at school?		Is there anything that you would like to change?

What people like and admire about me
What's important to me now....and in the future
....and in the future
Who is important to me – family, friends, support etc.
What does a good day / bad day look like?
Good day –
Bad day –
What is working;
How best to support me.
